

Wide Shot: A cozy living room. The wife peeks out from behind a wall, observing her husband who is engrossed in a book while sitting on a sofa.

Scene 01

Frame Transition: The wife slides into the frame, her face lit with an affectionate, slightly playful smile. She leans against the wall, looking at the camera and thinking about her husband. The husband is visible over her shoulder, deeply immersed in his book.

Medium Shot: The wife begins to walk slowly and sensuously towards her husband, her silk nightdress slipping slightly off her shoulder.

Scene 02

Close-Up: She then sits beside his husband and places her hand gently on her husband's leg. The camera shifts to the husband's face, capturing his slight smile

Scene 03

POV Shot: From the husband's perspective, the book is lowered by the wife's hand appeared on top of the book, revealing her face filled with love as she gazes at him.

Sequence: Their faces move closer as if they are about to kiss. Suddenly, she stops by putting her index finger between her and his lips and softly asks, "When did you last tell me 'I love you'?"

Scene 04

Medium Shot: The husband stands, smiles, and makes a playful gesture, mimicking the action of tapping a tea cup with a spoon. As a response to that the wife mimics the gesture, looking puzzled and curious.

Scene 05

Medium Shot:

Then husband goes towards the kitchen and starts making tea with the sequence of below quick cuts

1. Close-up of cups hanging in the kitchen.
2. Husband grabs a cup, places it on the counter, & retrieves a pack of Zesta tea from a kitchen pantry cupboard
3. Close-up of hot water pouring over tea leaves, with the tea color deepening in a glass pot.
4. Pouring the steaming tea into a cup.

Scene 06

Medium Shot: The husband returns to the living room, carrying the teacup. He sits beside his wife and hands her the cup, after saying, "I love you, Zesta." and Tapping to the cup for tin tin sound.

In response, she sips the tea, smiles, and asks, "Where's yours?", then husband wraps his arm around her shoulders, smiling, and says, "Right here."

Scene 07

Outro The screen transitions to the Zesta tea pack and brand logo, with the couple's joyful laughter still audible in the background.

Tagline: Every Cup is a Love Story!